

Un Sacco innovativo: the dishes forward...

My thoughts take me back to my grandmother's kitchen.

Every day brought a new way to repeat the same ritual,

the same the following week,

waiting for wild herbs to sprout in the meadows,

for hogs to reach maturity, for trout to reproduce.

Never having heard about sustainability,

she practiced it naturally, with the wisdom of our elders,

conferring the right value and respect to food.
